Improvements

The Austin Parks and Recreation Department invites the public to join them at a community meeting at 6:30pm on Tuesday, October 13, 2015 at the Lions Golf Course (at the Club House in the Harvey Penick Room), located at 2901 Enfield Road in Austin, Texas.

This is the second community meeting for the Eilers Neighborhood Park Improvement project and is designed to inform stakeholders of the current schematic design developed by the design consultants Design Workshop. The schematic design to be presented was developed based on the input received from the first community meeting and the survey taken at the meeting and provided for on-line. The proposed schematic design also integrates a proposed art project through the City of Austin Art In Public Places program.

This project is being implemented through PARD’s Capital Improvement Program and anticipates renovations to picnic, play, pathway and landscape features within this popular waterfront neighborhood park.
