City of Austin Water/Wastewater staff cannot find any as-built documentation of the conduits being installed. If the conduits exist and are usable as is, Seller retains the right, at Seller's sole expense, to use the conduits to supply utility services to Seller's remainder property, and to cross the Property being sold to the Buyer only to supply such utility services. Further, Seller must make every effort to minimize damage to the Property when Seller installs the utility services to Seller's remainder property. If utility services are installed, Buyer will provide a utility easement on the Property and Seller will dedicate a utility easement on the remainder property. Seller must pay all cost of locating and determining usability of the conduits.

5. The City of Austin expressly reserves the right to use the Property to construct, reconstruct, repair, remove, replace, relocate, and maintain streets and utility lines of all kinds, including, but not limited to, water, sewer, drainage, electric, telegraph, telephone, and telecommunication lines, on, over, under, and across the Property, and connections with any of the foregoing to similar utilities on, under, or across contiguous and adjacent property, despite dedication of the Property for park and recreational purposes. However, the location of any such lines, structures, and connections, must first be reviewed to minimize environmental impacts on the park and for safety issues related to using the park after installation of streets or utility lines. If such road, street, line, structure, or connection constitutes an environmental or safety hazard related to the use of the Property for park and recreational purposes, then the Director of the Department of Public Works and Transportation of the City of Austin and/or the Director of Water and Wastewater Utility of the City of Austin, as appropriate, must approve the location, and further, the location must also be approved by the Director of the Parks and Recreation Department of the City of Austin.
