

HomeBase

A new community of 61 affordable homes is now here in Southwest Austin. The Westgate Grove neighborhood is accepting applicants through Austin Habitat for Humanity's subsidiary organization, HomeBase.

For HomeBase, the program requirements are:

- Buyers must make 80% or below Median Family Income
- Buyers must qualify for and obtain a mortgage from an outside lender.

The affordability of these homes comes through partnership with the City of Austin. Their funding makes it possible for these single family homes to be sold for around $100,000 less than their neighbors.

This project has been in the making for years and is now selling homes to help people recognize the American Dream of homeownership, even for those who may not think it possible.

We've been in the business of affordable housing for 30 years and we're here to help. We're here to stay. Contact us today if you'd like to be a part of this new affordable opportunity for homeownership.
