

ROOMING & BOARDING HOUSE

Chapter 13 of the City's Local Amendments to the International Property Maintenance Code (IPMC), defines a Rooming/Boarding House as a building that is not a hotel, motel, bed & breakfast or short term rental that provides lodging (with or without meals) for 7 or more unrelated individuals. A license is required to operate a rooming or boarding house.

Most rooming or boarding houses have historically been located in areas zoned multi-family residential. Except for properties located within the McMansion area, occupancy in most single-family residential properties is limited to 6 unrelated individuals (See City Code Section 25-2-511). If the property is located within the McMansion area, the limit is 4 unrelated individuals.

By definition, a rooming/boarding house cannot be located in a residential area that is subject to Section 25-2-511. Houses located in residential zoned areas with 7 or more unrelated individuals are operating in violation of City Code. As of April 1, 2017, property owners are required to obtain an annual operating license from the Austin Code Department.

REASONABLE ACCOMMODATIONS

In order to allow a Rooming or Boarding House to operate on residential properties, Council passed Resolution No. 20130808-049, which directed the City Manager to evaluate existing reasonable accommodations processes. After evaluating existing processes, Council adopted an ordinance that created a reasonable accommodations process (See Ordinance No. 20160204-046). The reasonable accommodation process allows for a person with a disability or someone representing a person with a disability to request a reasonable accommodation verbally or in writing to any City of Austin employee, however the single point of contact is the City of Austin Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) Office. You may reach the ADA office at 512-974-3256 or at ADA@austintexas.gov.

An accommodation is a change, exception, or adjustment to a City requirement (City Code provision, uncodified ordinance, rule, policy, or procedure). Examples of accommodations include: increased impervious cover to extend the length of a driveway; extending the deadline to respond to comments during the permitting process. An accommodation is reasonable when it provides an individual with a disability with an equal opportunity to use and enjoy a dwelling. In this case, the accommodation will be to allow 7 or more unrelated individuals to live in the same establishment.

INSPECTION PROCESS

The Austin Code Department will work with the applicant to come into compliance. Below is a step-by-step process for inspections.

Disclaimer: this chart is just a representation of how the process could work. Unexpected or extenuating circumstances could alter the process as seen here.*

INSPECTION CHECKLIST

Austin Code conducts initial inspections on rooming and boarding homes, followed by annual inspections, to ensure properties are clean and safe. Inspectors investigate structural conditions, safe exit and ingress, electrical, heating and cooling systems, kitchens and bathrooms, smoke alarms, plumbing, ventilation, hot water heaters, pest and rodent infestation, and over occupancy.
